As the press has spread abroad a faithful account of his life and history, he would not detain them by re-reforring to them, but would allude to one or two salient points in his career. One of the greatest points in the Admiral's character was his complisance with that beautiful law which regulated Greeian architecture, his obedience and trust in the laws of God. He supposed it would be hard to find within the runge of human experience a man of greater impersonation of truth than Admiral Farrayut. He spoke and loved history will place him by the side of Washington and Wellington. His exploit had it not been for a bling at Mobile in his lofty post of danger, presiding over the battle, is typical of his whole life, and here, said the doctor, I was tate a fact which is not generally known to this congregation and the public. On that occasion, while the Admiral was lashed in the rigging of the Hartford, he offered up a prayer in the following words: "Oh, God, my Maker, lead me to do this day what is right and best for my country." In answer to the prayer the Admiral said he he heard a voice from heaven, which seemed, in tones of thunder, to say, "Go forward!" He oboyed the voice and went forward, and conquered. ories of listory. Great battles have been fugit against barbarian invaders. Here in 273, Aurelian, the conquence of Zenobia, gave Terticus and his rebellious legions a desperate defoat. Here, two, in 451, 251:as adepeated defoat. Here, two, in 451, 251:as the great Roman general of the Lower Empire, the last of the patriots, defeated Attla, the Hun, with overwhelming slaughter. Chalons had its shares interesting wars of France, in the oivil dissensions of the Fronde, and the subsequent contentions of Catholic and Protestant that ended in the coronation of Reary IV. The curious middle-age satirical custom of the Bishop of Fooly was preserved at Chalons, in which priests made fools of themselves before the people, who for the nonce were permitted to laugh at and mock the protensious and abuses of Holy Mother Church. Among the public establishments of Chalons the military and training schools are interesting, not only for the instruction of students in the intellectual and scientific departments of knowledge, but for preparing them in the arts, and qualifying them as professors and practical teachers of industria.
